Dr. Bunche Commencement Speaker

Evergreen Players To Present 'Caligula'

Nobel Winner To Receive Honorary Law Degree

Tonight and tomorrow night the Evergreen Players will present Albert Camus' play "Caligula" in Cohn Hall beginning at 8:30. Admission is $1.50 per person or per couple. Sophomore Ed Conery plays the male lead and the title role. The female lead will be played by Karen McGrath, a sophomore from the College of Notre Dame of Maryland majoring in speech and drama.

Spot News

There will be a banquet for the Greyhound staff on Thursday, May 18 at 6:30 p.m.

Berger-McCurdy

In a recent election Jim Berger was elected president of the Green and Gray; Joe McCurdy, vice-president; Tom Annulis, treasurer; and John Feller, secretary.

Nu Officers

The members of Alpha Sigma Nu elected John Feller, president; Joe Chepaitis, vice-president; and Tom Annulis, secretary-treasurer. John Feller will represent Loyola at the national convention of ASN in September.

Gung Ho Joes

The Scabbard and Blade recently elected new officers. They are John Feller, president; Denny Homberg, vice-president; Jerry Klasmeier, treasurer; and Tony Torba, secretary.

Math Changes

The Saccheri Math Academy recently held elections for the 1961-1962 school year. Tom Annulis was elected president and Tom McCormick vice-president. The new secretary-treasurer is Dave Mulrooney.

Cast

Others in the cast include Pete Genevese, who will play Caligula's best friend Helicon, Gerry Dotterweich, Roddy Heyl, Paul Montgomery, Nick Chesno, Carl Manfre, Bill Phillipp, Barry Tillman, Vince Baldini, and senior Dick Benjes, who will be making his final appearance as an Evergreen player. The play is under the direction of senior Dennis Smyth.

Background

"Caligula" is a modern tragic-comedy built upon the existential philosophy of the author. Although set in ancient Rome, it illuminates many problems of modern France. Everyone is invited to attend.

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche

Degrees of Education

Dr. Bunche was born in Detroit, Michigan, and received his A. B. degree at the University of California and the M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at Harvard University. During World War II he served in the Office of Strategic Services and the Department of State. In 1946 he accepted a permanent post in the U.N.

In September, 1948 Dr. Bunche was appointed by the Security Council as Acting U. N. Mediator in Palestine. He directed negotiations which resulted in armistice agreements between Israel and the Arab States. Following his service in Palestine he was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1950.

Seniors To Schedule Mass, Cruise, Prom

The class of 1961 will celebrate their gala Senior Week from May 28 through June 2. Graduation ceremonies will follow on the afternoon of Sunday June 4. According to class president Dick Prodey this Senior Week is destined to be the greatest celebration ever held by a senior class at Loyola.

The activities of Senior Week will begin with a Mass at 9 a.m. on May 28; the Mass will be followed by a Communion Breakfast. Guest speakers have been arranged for the occasion. The chairman of the event is Marty Skane.

On Monday, May 29, the seniors will attend a stag party from 8 until 12, at the Notre Dame K. of C. Hall on Homeland Ave. John Connors and Bucky Effinger are co-chairmen of this event. On Tuesday the senior ROTC officers will attend a banquet at Fort Meade.

Moonlight Cruise

On Wednesday, May 31, the seniors and their dates will enjoy a moonlight cruise above the "Port Welcome" from 8:30 until 11:30. Al Budacz and Pete Karczewski are planning this event. On Thursday night the seniors will sponsor a dance at Annapolis Roads Country Club.

Senior Prom

The big event of Senior Week occurs on the night of Friday, June 2, with the Senior Prom, to be held this year at the Blue Crest North from 9 until 1. The music will be

Hampton Exhibit Features Several Jesuit Articles

Maryland's Hampton House which was established in 1880 is now exhibiting a collection of articles from the Maryland educational institutions over 100 years old. Loyola College, which was established in 1852, is one of the foremost contributors to the collection of colonial and early American items.

Loyola and Maryland

Since the Jesuits have played such an important part in the history of Maryland, and since Loyola is one of the older colleges, the Jesuit exhibits are both interesting and valuable.

Chalice and Cruet

The Loyola collection includes a chalice which is over 300 years old and which was used by the Jesuit missionaries in Maryland. Another

'60-'61: Job Well Done

By T. Kenney Gray

Today the 1960-61 Student Council will meet and adjourn for the last time. It is only appropriate on this occasion that some comment be made about this Council. A detailed review of the year would be space-consuming and boring. If anyone wishes to read the details, he need only consult the records of the Student Council.

Loyola College is now in a transition period, one of change and upward motion. We hope that we have aided this flight in some way. In all our endeavors the efforts of the Council have been directed at one goal and one goal only--the good of the Student Community. In a very human fashion we often fell short of this goal, sometimes missing it completely. These efforts required a great amount of work and because of this work many privileges and advantages have been obtained for the students. Hard work has been characteristic of this group throughout the year.

Now there exists on campus a strong interest in student government. We know that this interest has been increasing over the past three years but we believe that we have played a very positive role in it. The result of this interest should be a more competent and intelligent leadership which will insure that the transitory flight will remain on the up. We are not smug about our accomplishments, but we do have the honest feeling of a job well-done.

As a final word, I wish to express my gratitude to the Administration of the College for their goodwill and cooperation, to all the members of the 1960-61 Council for their work and support, and to the students of Loyola College for the singular honor which I have been proud to bear for the past year.

'61-'62: Expansive Year

By John W. Baynes

Next year will be a year of expansion at Loyola College. Our faculty, facilities, and student body will expand in size and quality. Our prestige and influence in the community will be greatly enhanced. You as a student can expect a concomitant development in your Student Council. But of course this is a conditional statement, for the Council depends on you.

You cannot expect a successful Council nor can you complain about the Council unless you have contributed to its potential effectiveness. Many times during the past year the Student Council has been the object of severe criticism, but seldom have the critics correctly analyzed the problem. Council members are not daydreamers, nor are they appointees to dream up new ideas. Their primary attribute is not their imagination.

Your Council representatives are, in a sense, labor union leaders; they can express your ideas and put them into effect only if you express them first.

As the incoming president of the Student Council, I am confident of my leadership ability. I also have confidence in the quality of the members of next year's Council. I guarantee one thing: that I and the 1961-62 Council will not accept the blame for an unsuccessful representation of the will of the Student Community. We have the mechanics and the leadership to represent yourself.

Salute, Farewell

Mr. Francis L. Christ

After the commencement exercises of 1961, Mr. Francis L. Christ will officially end an eight-year period of service at Evergreen. The young professor's decision to leave was prompted by his physician's recommendation to move to a dry climate.

Mr. Christ, who has been at Loyola since 1953, has an excellent background in English literature, as well as a broad knowledge of psychology and education. Among his degrees are an A.B. in English from Ladycliff College, an M.A. in Education from Loyola, and a newly collected Resident's requirement for his Ph.D. from the University of Maryland.

En Garde

Before coming to Loyola, Mr. Christ served as Assistant Master of the Sword at the United States Naval Academy for six years. Many of the things which Mr. Christ learned at the Academy have aided him here at Loyola where he has the position of Instructor and Assistant Professor in the fields of College English, Creative Writing, Speech, and Reading. In the Loyola graduate program, he has held the position of Professorial Lecturer in reading research.

Publishes Book

Mr. Christ lists various articles and a book, "American Catholicism and the Intellectual Ideal," as well as membership in various literary organizations, among his accomplishments. In his years at Loyola Mr. Christ has been impressed by the fact that "the faculty... is most unusual in friendship, one for another, and the lack of jealousy among its members." Finally, he has been moved by "the tolerance and understanding of the Jesuit administration and the faculty."

The Best Of Quinn

For many years, one of the most widely read columns in the Greyhound has been the Watchdog. It has been the function of this column to add a little spice to the rest of the paper and at the same time to give the students a chance to see their names or the names of various "friends" and teachers in print.

The writing of the column is much harder than it seems to the average student, and there are many restrictions as to what a writer may say and just how he may say it. Because of his fine writing job during the 1960 season, we would like to salute senior John Quinn and present a collection of what, we believe, are his finest puns:

We have some suggestions for filling the empty spaces in the trophy case. How about a parking trophy for anyone who can park within a mile of the school for three days in succession? Or one in the form of a towtruck for the one having his car towed away more times than his fellow students? How about one for the biggest dent or greatest damage inflicted in any one accident?

Suicides occur more frequently in the spring than in any other season; Baltimoreans are often heard complaining about a lack of springtime here in Baltimore. They say that we change directly from winter to summer. Some of the philosophy students hold that this is a healthy climate since the quick change cuts down our suicide rate.

The machines have asked me to please inform the student body that it does them no good to kick the machines until they have waited long enough for them to decide whether they will give one soda and no change, or no soda and some change, or no soda and no change. When the students kick a machine too soon, it causes a rejection of the quarter and the student is forced to begin again. This startles the machine and doesn't give it time to think.

Over the Easter holidays, the ROTC made its annual trip to Aberdeen where the kiddies got to handle real guns with real bullets, and Henry Becker was seen helping a nun who had fainted.

A guard at last week's convocation was so overcome with emotion that he fainted and silently slid beneath the stands, as another guard, Tom Kneavel, refused to quit his post. Such conduct is in keeping with the time-honored traditions of Her Majesty's Troop. Unfortunately, Her Majesty was not present but neither was her Palace Guard.

the Palestine problem as a member of the staff of the United Nations Special Committee in 1947, Dr. Brunche has frequently been called upon for work and advice of various kinds in connection with problems of the Near East. During the Suez Crisis in November, 1956, he was asked by the Secretary-General to organize and to supervise from Headquarters the United Nations Emergency Force. He continues to carry this responsibility. Dr. Bunche was the Special Representative of the Secretary-General in the Congo from June 25 to September 1, 1960.

Other Achievements

Dr. Bunche has been the recipient of numerous honorary degrees and awards, including Phi Beta Kappa and the Four Freedoms Award. He is a member of the New York City Board of Higher Education, as well as a member of the Board of Overseers of Harvard, the Board of Trustees of Oberlin College, and the Board of Trustees of the Rockefeller Foundation.

T. Himmelheber: 9:30 Deadline

by W. F. H.

This being the final 'Greyhound' of the year, we cannot "close shop" without expressing our gratitude to senior Tim Himmelheber. Timmy has endlessly contributed to the publication since his initial days at Loyola.

In his second semester as a freshman, Tim was appointed page 3 editor; the '58-59 Greyhound saw him as news editor; during Bob Reiter's tenure, Tim was managing editor; and this semester he willingly lent his services as senior advisor. Add to these many journalistic services part time employment at the 'Sunpapers'.

On the other hand, all is not "news" to Tim; he is one of the "silent six" math majors, president of the Math Club, member of the Glee Club, and listed in Who's Who.

Sincere Thanks

The editor and the staff extend sincere thanks to a generous and spirited student; ... his valuable assistance was had until 9:30 p.m., May 8, 1961.

Bob Reiter: A Real Pioneer

In thinking back over the achievements which we have made during the past year, the members of the Greyhound staff turns much of its attention to our first semester editions, and our past Editor-in-Chief, Bob Reiter. We now feel that it is our duty to salute this fine journalist who helped to pioneer the weekly paper that we now know.

Bob started work on the newspaper in freshman year and the next year became Assistant Sports Editor for two semesters. However, his ability and drive were such that former Editor, Jim Molloy chose him as a successor upon his leaving the staff in February of 1961.

U. M. P.

Besides his work on the paper, Bob played three years on the Loyola lacrosse team. He also has served in the Advanced Corps for two years.

Later plans include a six month stay with the Army Military Police during which Bob is looking forward to wielding an officer's "club." After a short stint with the Army, Bob will try his hand at some sort of industrial management.

We salute you, Robert The Reiter, both in and out of uniform.

Bishop's Beret

One of the most valuable exhibits in the collection is donated by Loyola College. It includes a Biretta of a bishop, Michael O'Connor, who became a Jesuit after he became a bishop. Bishop O'Connor, S.J. was attached to Loyola College and lived here several years and was the first bishop of Pittsburgh. The Hampton House is located on Dulaney Valley Road in Towson; the exhibit is open to the public.

GREYHOUND SPORTS

by Dick Cooke

In two weeks another school year will be history. The won and lost columns of the various sports on the Loyola 1960-61 schedule will be nothing more than statistics. With regard to the records, some of the Hound teams did well, some did fair, and some did poorly. The important thing is that the Greyhounds hustled whether they won or lost.

Highlights

The Hound swimmers continued to win this past season copping the M.D. crown with a close 135-134 victory over A.U. The booters had their best season since '48 with a league record of 7-4.

The cross-country squad finished 5th out of a field of 10 in the M-D finals with freshman Rick Frampton taking a first in the 3 mile run.

The Hound grapplers had a better than even season and freshman Alex Schilpp walked off with the M-D championship in the 137 pound bracket.

Intramurals

In last week's intramural action, the Moleskins won two games to stay in the thick of the race. Behind in the brilliant pitching of Tom Schultz, the Skins defeated the F. Pigs, 6-1, and the Sharks, 8-0. The Moleskins started fast in each game. Against the Pigs, they scored two runs in the first and third innings to coast to victory. The Pigs didn't score against Schultz until the last inning when they got their single marker. Against the Sharks, the Skins got 2 runs in each of the first 3 innings while Schultz shut out the opposition.

In other action the Foul Baegels downed the Dukes in a close one, 5-4. The game was tied until the last inning when the Baegels scored a run to pull out the victory.

The race is shaping up into a three team battle. It looks like the Moleskins, the Foul Baegels, and the Madballs will go right down to the wire. The Madballs won last year and rule as slight favorites.

Freshmen tug of war team pulls in vain as Seniors took event but lost Loyola Day to Juniors.

Juniors Win Loyola Day; Lomp Individual Champ

Last week Loyola College was introduced to a new source of student activity and entertainment. Under the name of Loyola Day, the student body, competing for class and individual honors, fought each other doggedly producing a day of sheer enjoyment and a day which will be repeated each year.

Juniors Victorious

The junior class, staving off a late senior class rush, finished at the top of the heap while amassing a total of 66 points. The seniors placed second with a total accumulation of 59 1/3 points. The freshman class did well for themselves by placing third with 35 1/3 points. The sophomores, led by Donellan and Freimuth, finished last with 14 1/3 points.

Lomp High Man

Senior Lou Lomp copped high individual honors while leading his class to a second place finish. Lou won the 100 yd. dash, the football throw for distance, and placed 2nd in the 220 yd. dash. But the entire junior class proved too powerful for Lou's outstanding performance.

Other Winners

The Powley boys teamed up as usual to easily win the three-legged race. Other victors include: Discus, E. Elliott; Foul Shooting, Nick Kollman; Running Broad Jump, F. Moritz; High Jump, C. Kyper; Low Hurdles, Zubrowski; Shot put, R. Lucente; Fat Man's Relay, Heisner, Balda, Sanders, & Hricko; Standing Broad Jump, Freimuth; 1/2 Mile Relay, Annulis, Preis, Stundick, & French; Hop Step & Jump, Rock; Softball Throw Distance, Smuck; Football Throw Accuracy, Donellan; Softball Throw Accuracy, Heagney; Egg Throw, Kennedy & Yurek; Tug O War, Unlimited and under 1,700 pounds, Seniors.

Shoremen Here

This coming Tuesday the Hound tennis team will take on Washington College here at 3 p.m. Last week, the Loyola netmen downed Mt. St. Mary's twice by 5-4 counts and were leading Fordham when rain cancelled the match.

Hounds Host Shore Nine

Tomorrow the Hounds close out the 1961 baseball season with a double-header against Washington College here at Evergreen. The first game begins at 1:30. Last year Washington College defeated Loyola twice, 7-1 and 1-0, to knock them out of the running for the Mason-Dixon title. At present the Hounds are in third place behind B. U. and Western Maryland. Washington is fourth, and the final standings will depend on the outcome of the games tomorrow.

Double Header

In last week's action the Hounds split with Mt. St. Mary's in making up the games which were rained out the week before. The Hounds also lost to Western Maryland. The Hounds took the first game with the Mount, 5-4, behind the pitching of Phil Potter. Dave Carney had two hits while Nick Jackson, Mike Elliott, and Bill Falkenhan each had one.

Bree Homers

Elliott drove in two runs while Falkenhan drove in another with a double. In the second game the Hounds ran into some tough pitching as they lost, 8-1. The only run came on Charlie Bree's homer, Mt. St. Mary's countered with two home runs of their own as they scored 6 runs in the fifth inning to overcome a 1-0 Loyola lead.

Loss to W. M.

Against Western Maryland the Hounds could manage only 4 hits and 1 run as they lost 6-1. The Terrors scored 3 runs in the third and 2 in the fourth to lock up the victory. This defeat brought the Hounds' record to 5 wins and 6 losses in league play and 7 and 8 overall. The game with Georgetown last Saturday was rained out.

Loyola Ten Ends Season

This coming Tuesday, the Hound lacrosse squad will close out its season against Washington College with a home game at 3:30. Washington has put together a top-flight outfit this year, and will be favored over Loyola, whose record now stands at 4-6.

Hounds Down Post

In last weekend's junket into New York, the Hounds started off well by defeating Post College on Friday afternoon by a 10-5 count. John Stewart paced Loyola with 3 goals. Mike Abromaitis, Marty Pilsch, and Jim Lamar each notched a pair of markers for the Hounds.

Hofstra Tough

On Saturday against Hofstra, the Greyhounds never recovered from a 2 goal onslaught by their hosts in the first 45 seconds and eventually were crushed by a 19-2 score. John Stewart and Ham Dugan scored the Loyola goals. Greyhound goalie Paige Fried put on a better performance than the score indicates by making 28 saves.
